FOREIGN POLICY

Kingdom recognizes Kosovo independence

Saudi Arabia on Monday recognized the Republic of Kosovo, which declared its independence from Serbia on February 17, 2008. In a statement announcing the decision, the Foreign Ministry stated: "In line with the existing religious and cultural bonds with the people Kosovo, and in respect to the will of the people of Kosovo to obtain independence, the Kingdom announces its recognition of the Republic of Kosovo, and hopes that this development will positively contribute to enhancing security and stability of Kosovo and its neighboring countries."

FOREIGN AID

Kingdom presents UNRWA with $1.2 million

Saudi Ambassador to Jordan Fahd Alzaid presented a check in the amount of $1.2 million to Karen AbuZayd, Commissioner-General of the United Nations Relief and Works Agency for Palestine Refugees in the Near East (UNRWA). The $1.2 million is part of Saudi Arabia's contribution to the regular budget of the UNRWA. In a statement to Saudi Press Agency, Ambassador Alzaid said that Saudi Arabia is one of the main donors to UNRWA and stressed the importance of the role played by UNRWA in serving the needs of the Palestinian refugees.

Last month, the Kingdom provided a $600,000 additional support for UNRWA's projects in the Occupied Territories.
